University of Florida residents and fellows are provided three days of holiday leave in addition to either Christmas Day or New Year’s Day for a total of four days of holiday leave. All responsibility and authority for scheduling leave, as well as meeting both the educational and clinical service needs of the program rests with the program director.